Administrative Information

Arrangement

The collection is arranged in two series, I. Administrative and II. Submissions. The materials in this collection were initially organized by the submitting organization and assigned a submission number. Due to the unique nature of each submission, this arrangement allowed various formats to be intellectually grouped, thereby retaining the original sense of the submission. Because of the unique preservation needs of individual formats, the collection was physically arranged by format (manuscript, audio recording, graphic images, moving images, and digital files) during processing of the collection and housed accordingly. This finding aid is arranged by submission number, grouping all items from each organization together. See also the index for an alphabetical list of submitting organizations.

Acquisition

Materials for this collection were solicited from the public by the American Folklife Center via press releases, articles, emails, listservs, interviews, letters, and/or phone calls. Collection materials were submitted directly to the American Folklife Center by the individual and/or organizational creator of the materials via email, fax, and/or mail service.

Processing History

Megan Halsband began processing the collection in 2009. Erika Holmes Walston, intern under the oversight of Bertram Lyons, completed the processing in 2013. All digital files from undamaged CD-Rs and DVD-Rs were transferred to the library's servers. All digital text and photograph files were also printed and filed with other manuscripts and photographs. Some CD-R and DVD-R submissions were damaged in the mail; participants were notified and some sent replacements. Original CD-Rs and DVD-Rs were retained and are housed with the collection. Audio cassettes and videocassettes are stored in the Motion Picture, Broadcasting and Recorded Sound Division (M/B/RS).

Copyright Status

Duplication of recordings may be governed by copyright and other restrictions.

Access and Restrictions

Collection is open for research; access restrictions for some recordings may apply. To request materials, please contact the Folklife Reading Room at <http://hdl.loc.gov/loc.afc/folklife.contact>. All audio-visual materials for this collection are served in the reading room as digital files (not on CD-Rs or DVD-Rs). Manuscripts and photographs that were submitted as digital files have been printed out for access. For manuscripts and photographs submitted as hard copies or prints, the originals are served.

Administrative History

In anticipation of the January 20, 2009, inauguration of President Barack Obama, the American Folklife Center solicited audio and video recordings of sermons and orations that commented on the 2009 inauguration. These materials, solicited from the public through the American Folklife Center website as well as various press releases and other forms of communication, now form the Inauguration 2009 Sermons and Orations Project collection. The American Folklife Center requested that recordings must be of sermons and orations that were delivered to congregations and other audiences between Friday, January 16 and Sunday, January 25, 2009. In addition to audio and video recordings, the Center also requested written texts of sermons and orations (submitted in the form of print or electronic media), as well as printed programs from the events during which the sermons and orations were delivered. When materials were damaged during delivery to the American Folklife Center, replacement materials were requested. Participants were required to submit both an information form and a release form with their collection materials.

Scope and Content

The Inauguration 2009 Sermons and Orations Project collection consists of submissions by over 300 individuals, religious and secular organizations, and cultural groups documenting programs and celebrations of Barack Obama's presidential inauguration. These events occurred across the United States and in Nairobi, Kenya and Salvador, Bahia, Brazil. Each participant determined the nature of the materials submitted, resulting in a diverse collection of materials that includes, but is not limited to, the following: digital documents and files (including text-based documents, audio recordings, PowerPoint presentations, and image files); audio recordings (primarily audio cassettes and CD-R); video recordings (Hi-8, VHS, and DVD-R); manuscripts; and photographs (including physical and digital files). The specific topics and formats of each submission are unique, ranging from public speeches in varying formats (both religious and secular in nature), to creative writings and performances. In addition to the topic of the inauguration, many submissions referenced or discussed the birthday of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., which occurred Monday, January 19, 2009, the day before the inauguration. Included in this collection is a recording of the sermon that President and Mrs. Obama attended on January 18, 2009, at Nineteenth Street Baptist Church (Washington, D.C.) [Submission 0141]; as well as a video of the January 18, 2009, service from Ebenezer Baptist Church (Atlanta, Ga.) [Submission 0290], where Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., served as pastor. In addition, this collection includes submissions from the Washington National Cathedral (Washington, D.C.) [Submission 0295], as well as the Harvard University Memorial Church (Cambridge, Mass.) [Submission 0104] and the Yale University Divinity School [Submission 0143]. This collection also includes submissions from a variety of cultural and religious groups, including: atheists, Christians, Hindus, Humanists, Jews, Muslims, Quakers, and secular groups and organizations. See the index for an alphabetical list of people and organization names.
