Administrative Information

Provenance

The records of the Frances G. Wickes Foundation were given to the Library of Congress in 1999 by George Hogle, S. Hazard Gillespie, and William McGuire in their capacity as the surviving members of the final board of directors of the Frances G. Wickes Foundation, which was terminated in 1973. Additional material acquired by the Library as part of the William McGuire Papers was transferred to the foundation's records in 2006.

Processing History

The records of the Frances G. Wickes Foundation were arranged and described in 2001. An addition to the collection was processed in 2006.

Transfers

A recording of the memorial service for Frances G. Wickes has been transferred to the Recorded Sound Section of the Motion Picture, Broadcasting, and Recorded Sound Division where it is identified as part of these papers.

Related Materials

Oral history interviews were conducted under the direction of the Center for the Study of Lives, Boston, Massachusetts, and comprise the C. G. Jung Oral History Archive, which was given to the Francis A. Countway Library of Medicine, also in Boston, upon the dissolution of the foundation.

Copyright Status

Copyright in the unpublished writings of the Frances G. Wickes Foundation in these papers and in other collections of papers in the custody of the Library of Congress has been dedicated to the public.

Scope and Content Note

The records of the Frances G. Wickes Foundation span the years 1911-1978, with the bulk of the material dating from 1955, the year the foundation was created, to 1974, the year after the foundation was terminated. Since Wickes had been a student of C. G. Jung and a practitioner of his theories, the foundation primarily supported institutions and projects related to the Jungian school of analytical psychology. Its records include correspondence, financial material, minutes of meetings, annual reports, corporate papers, and a file on the management of the estate of Frances G. Wickes. Also within the estate administration file is correspondence with Muriel Rukeyser, who helped Wickes with her final publication projects and was her literary executor, and material concerning the estate of the writer Mary Louise Parmalee Peebles. Peebles established a trust fund for Wickes and her son Eliphalet. There is also correspondence from various Jungian analysts and scholars of analytical psychology, including William McGuire.

An addition of administrative and project files was transferred in 2006 to the foundation's records from the William McGuire Papers. The addition, gathered by McGuire in his capacity as a member of the foundation's board of directors, contains correspondence, administrative and financial reports, minutes of meetings, printed matter, and miscellaneous items documenting the administration and funding of the foundation's various programs and projects, including the operation of its financial grant program and the sponsorship of an oral history project devoted to C. G. Jung.
