Biographical Note

Halsey Stevens was born on December 3, 1908, in Scott, New York. Educated at Homer Academy as a youth, Stevens took to composing at a young age and completed his first work, The Frogs at School, sometime around 1920-1921. He studied composition with William Berwald at Syracuse University, earning his B.A. in 1931 and his M.M. in 1937. Shortly after graduation, Stevens accepted a position as associate professor of music at Dakota Wesleyan University, where he remained until 1944. He continued his composition studies with Ernest Bloch at the University of California, Berkeley, before settling into a professorship at the University of Southern California in 1946. Over the course of his thirty-year tenure at the school, Stevens served as chairman for its department of composition (1949-1975), composer-in-residence (1972-1976), and as Andrew W. Mellon Professor in the Humanities (1974-1976). He was named professor emeritus in 1976.

As a musicologist, Stevens spent a considerable portion of his academic career dedicated to documenting the music and legacy of Hungarian composer Béla Bartók. His signature monograph, The Life and Music of Béla Bartók, was first published in 1953, with a second edition in 1964. His scholarly success fueled a robust career as visiting professor and guest lecturer at nearly seventy American and European universities, including the University of Cincinnati and Yale University. Stevens was the recipient of Guggenheim Fellowships in 1964 and 1971, with which he traveled and composed a handful of his hundreds of instrumental and vocal works. His Sonata for Trumpet and Piano (1956), Sonata for Solo Cello (1956), and Symphonic Dances (1958) are among his most performed works. Stevens appears to have stopped composing by the early 1980s, at which point he was living in Inglewood, California. He died on January 20, 1989.

Scope and Content Note

Music materials from the Halsey Stevens Papers consist of scores, parts, and sketches for works composed from about 1920 to 1987. These include instrumental works for keyboard, chamber ensemble, and full orchestra, as well as vocal and choral works and arrangements for varying instrumentations. The majority of titles are represented by dated pencil scores in Stevens' hand, onionskin master sheets, and ozalid reproductions of scores bearing annotations by Stevens or other conductors and performers. Additional materials include publisher proofs, score paste-ups, and lyric sheets. Numerous scores have been stamped "withdrawn" by the Stevens estate. These are omitted from Stevens' known personal works list, although many are assigned "catalog" numbers on the original crate inventories that accompanied the materials.

In addition to his own composing, Stevens spent considerable time throughout his career transcribing and arranging folk music from Eastern and Western Europe, Canada, and Latin America. Many of his arrangements of Hungarian and Slavic folk songs are based upon transcriptions by Béla Bartók. The collection also includes an extensive amount of Stevens' miscellaneous sketch materials, many of which are arranged according to their original packing inventories. These include unfinished and unidentified works, theory and composition exercises, and fragments of inked master sheets. Titles of significant works in sketchbooks are listed if known.

Organization of the Halsey Stevens Papers

The Halsey Stevens Papers are currently organized in one series:

- Music, circa 1920-1987

Description of Series

Container
BOX 1-51

Series

Music, circa 1920-1987

Chiefly scores, parts, and sketches for original compositions and arrangements by Stevens.

Early works that have been "withdrawn" by the composer are indicated as such. Ozalid reproductions of scores frequently contain annotations by Stevens or other conductors and performers.

Organized in four subseries.

Instrumental, 1927-1987

Works for orchestra, chamber ensembles, and various solo instruments. Scores for many compositions are also found within Stevens' sketchbooks and have been cross-referenced accordingly.

Arranged alphabetically by title of work.

Vocal, circa 1920-1982

Works for chorus or voice(s), with and without accompaniment. Scores for many compositions are also found within Stevens' sketchbooks and have been cross-referenced accordingly.

Arranged alphabetically by title of work.

Arrangements and Transcriptions, 1930-1966

Chiefly arrangements of folk songs for piano or small instrumental ensemble. Most of Stevens' Hungarian and Slavic arrangements are based on transcriptions by Béla Bartók.

Arranged alphabetically by last name of composer, and by title of work therein.

Compilations of traditional folk songs are listed under "unidentified," although the pieces themselves may contain notes about some of their source materials.

Miscellany, 1920s-1970s

Loose sketch materials and unfinished onionskin masters, sketchbooks, theory and composition notebooks, and a handful of scores by other composers. Many of the sketches are accompanied by their original crate inventories. Sketchbooks with substantial, identifiable compositions contain cross-references to other related music materials.

Arranged alphabetically by type of material. Sketchbooks are arranged chronologically where possible.

Arrangements and Transcriptions, 1930-1966

Chiefly arrangements of folk songs for piano or small instrumental ensemble. Most of Stevens' Hungarian and Slavic arrangements are based on transcriptions by Béla Bartók.

Arranged alphabetically by last name of composer, and by title of work therein.

Compilations of traditional folk songs are listed under "unidentified," although the pieces themselves may contain notes about some of their source materials.
