

Great Britain is gathering 50,000 camels at Cairo to aid in the defence of Egypt. Here are 1,000 of them.

© International News Service

Getting ready for a German-Turkish drive on Egypt. Berkshire yeomanry drilling near Cairo.

Underwood & Underwood.

Exhibition in Arts and Crafts College, Berlin, of the handwork of wounded soldiers.

Underwood & Underwood.

France has called the striplings of the class of 1917 to the colors. A batch starting for the equipment station.

Medem Photo Service

Thirty-three feet underground, this French telephone operator transmits messages from the battle line to headquarters.

Underwood & Underwood.

This truly infernal machine, which throws jets of fire thirty feet, killed the Austrian who wielded it against the Russians.

Underwood & Underwood.