
Brigadier General James Parker, Congressional Medal of Honor man and veteran cavalry leader, known the length of the border as "Galloping Jim," is the new commander of the Southern Department, succeeding General Pershing.
Press Ill. Service

"Belgium of To-day" symbolized by Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilt and Anita Yoakum Fosdick at a Red Cross fete in Newport.
© Int. Film

Mrs. Marie Saunders, direct descendant of Pocahontas, and William B. McAlpine, a Comanche halfbreed, are married in Washington, D. C., with elaborate Indian ceremonials.
Press Ill. Service

P. H. W. Ross, organizer and head of the National Marine League, urges a schoolship for each state in the Union to train the thousands of navigators who will be needed for our new merchant marine.
© Int. Film

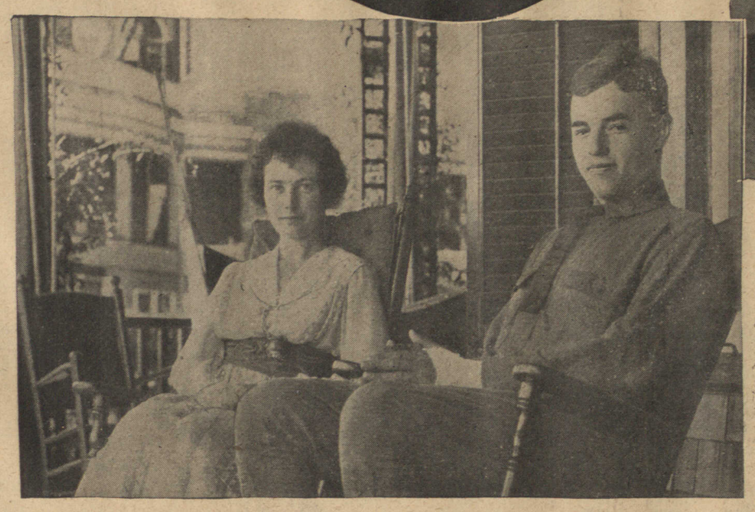
Miss Margaretta Blair, of Chicago, whose engagement to Governor James M. Cox of Ohio has just been announced. They first met at Hot Springs, Va., one year ago.
Underwood & Underwood



Charles P. Taft, 2d, son of ex-President Taft, and his fiancee, Miss Eleanor Kellogg Chase, at her home in Newport. Young Taft is a private in the regular artillery, stationed at Fort Myer, Va.
Central News Photo Serv.

Norman Ross, swimming the mile in 24 min. 10 sec., breaks eleven A. A. U. records for intermediate distances at the Pacific Coast championship meet at San Diego. His time beats by 49 1-5 seconds the mile record set at the exposition in 1915.

The feminine "Sammie" on the right is Miss Christie Harrington, well known in New York society, the voluntary bodyguard of Mrs. Grace Humiston, who cleared up the Ruth Cruger mystery and is now investigating similar disappearances of young girls. Miss Harrington wears the natty uniform of the Women's Defence League.

On the left—Rose Pastor Stokes, who, with her millionaire husband, J. G. Phelps Stokes, resigned from the Socialist party because its radicals denounced the entry of the United States into the war.

Left to right—Dr. Rosalie Slaughter Morton, a noted physician, chairman of the American Women's Hospital, with headquarters in New York. Miss Katherine Lackie, veteran newspaper and magazine woman, now city editor of the Food Administration in Washington, directing the daily publicity. Miss Sarah Field Splint, editor of "To-day's Housewife," one of the leading members of the Food Administration publicity department, in the official uniform.
Photos © Harris & Ewing, from Paul Thompson

Dr. Gurney Williams, chairman of the Red Cross Chapter at Atlantic City, and one of several First Aid boxes given by Germans and Americans of German descent. One of these boxes has dressed the wounds of no less than a hundred men.

Col. Edward H. Green, son of the late Hetty Green, with his bride, who was Miss Mabel Harlow, photographed Friday "the 13th" on his yacht, United States, off Eighty-sixth Street, New York, before sailing for a honeymoon trip to the Panama Canal. Colonel Green, one of the world's richest men, presented his wife with $500,000 in cash as a wedding gift.
© M. Rosenfeld and Amer. Press