

(Photo © by International Film Service.)

French Armored Motor Car Halts on the Road Near Guillemont, Where Many Wounded French Soldiers Who Have Just Been Brought on Stretchers from the Firing Line Lie on the Ground Waiting to be Removed to Field Hospitals.

NUNGNER, French Aviator, Alights After Having Brought Down His Twelfth German Flier.

Friendly Officer Calls a "Poilu" Aside to Tell Him He Has Been Mentioned in the Order of the Day for Gallantry.

(Photo by Central News Photo Service.)

FRENCH SOLDIERS CARRYING HOT SOUP TO MEN IN THE FIRST LINE TRENCHES. (Photos © by A. P. A. From Modem.)

BRITISH CAVALRY, ON THE SOMME FRONT, COMING IN A COLUMN, MILES LONG, TO THE PLACE OF RENDEZVOUS BEHIND THE LINES. (Photo © by International Film Service.)