

MAKING ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUNS AND FIELD ARTILLERY IN UNITED STATES ARSENAL.

A Department in the Busiest American Ordnance Factory, Watervliet, N. Y. The Photograph Is One of a Few Taken This Month, When Official Permission to Take a Camera Into the Arsenal Was Given for the First Time. (© American Press Assn.)

ENGLISH WOMEN'S ECONOMY EXHIBITION, IN LONDON, AT WHICH VISITORS TOOK THE PLEDGE TO SAVE ALL THEY COULD THROUGHOUT THE WAR.

(Underwood & Underwood.)

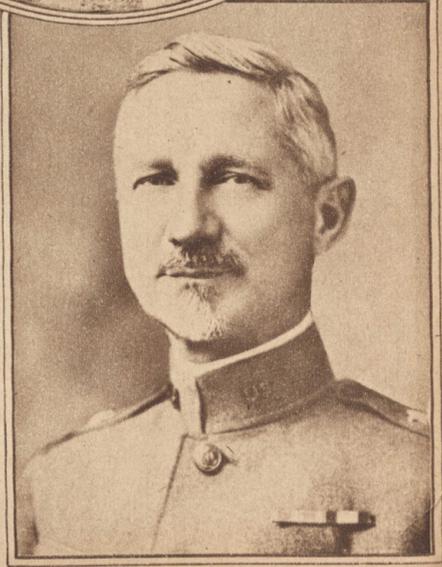

MODEL WAR HOSPITAL ON VIEW IN NEW YORK

On the Rockefeller Institute Lawn Is America's First Portable War Hospital, Used to Demonstrate the Carrel-Dakin Wound Cure. A Feature Is the "Bomb Exit." Base Hospitals Are Likely to be Bombed by German Airplanes, Leaving the Buildings Ablaze. Every Few Yards a Section of the Wall Swings Outward on a Pulley Apparatus, Forming a Door by Which Patients and Nurses May Escape. (© International Film Service.)

H. P. DAVISON AND HIS TWO SONS, H. P. DAVISON, JR., AND H. TRUBEE DAVISON, AT THE BASEBALL GAME BETWEEN MILITARY AND NAVAL AVIATORS ON THE DAVISON ESTATE, PEACOCK POINT, L. I., JULY 14. (Times Photo Service.)

BRIG. GEN. PEYTON C. MARCH, ARTILLERY COMMANDER, U. S. A., ONE OF THE SIXTEEN COLONELS RECENTLY PROMOTED. (© United Studio.)

MEN ENLISTED FOR NAVAL SERVICE PARADE ON LOWER FIFTH AVENUE. (© Underwood & Underwood.)

FIRST ARRIVALS AT THE YAPHANK DRAFT CAMP. Maryland Guards Formed the Advance Contingent at Long Island's Training Ground. This Camp Is the New National Army Concentration Site Nearest to New York City. The Permanent Wooden Shelters Are Not Yet Completed. (© International Film Service.)